

Characters of Silent Hill Two

James Sunderland

James Sunderland is the main protagonist of Silent Hill Two. His character is guilt stricken because he murdered his wife, Mary Shepard-Sunderland. James has to choose between letting his wife suffer or euthanizing her to let her suffering end. James and Mary met at a party that mutual friends hosted. He had a peaceful relationship with Mary until she was diagnosed with a terminal disease that deteriorated her body. He receives a letter from Mary after her death saying to come to Silent Hill. This leads to a series of revelations for the main protagonist, James.

Mary Shepard-Sunderland

Mary Shepard-Sunderland is the late wife of James Sunderland. Her favorite pastime is playing piano; despite not being a great piano player, James loved hearing Mary play. The last moments of her life were full of anguish. Mary and James went to Silent Hill before the events of Silent Hill 2. Silent Hill is their favorite place; they spend time at the Toluca Lake Hotel. Well, sick, she would console her feelings to Laura.

Angela Orosclo

Angela Orosclo is what the Japanese would describe as hikikomori (which means avoiding society to a great extent). Angel Orosclo's character is 19-year-old. Her character fears the nighttime will come because she suffers abuse from her family (mother, brother, and father). Her character becomes very suicidal throughout her life; she eventually murders her family. James tries to help her character, but her character gives in and tries to find a way to commit suicide.

Eddie Dombrowski

Eddie Dombrowski is troubled character that suffers from disorders such body dysmorphism and eating disorders that engendered to eat more then the usual person. Eddie was bullied by a foot ball players and in retaliation killed the football players dog and shot the foot ball players knee. Eddie says that Silent Hill called him there when he started running.
